Exercise 3.2

Exercise 3.2

- You are quite happy with your progress on the WordPress theme so far.
- Now, what you would really like to have is
 - Support for the management and the display of portfolio entries
 - Writing posts about projects in the Portfolio
 - Adding support for in-place editing of the content
 - Customisability of the theme and contact details

- Custom Post Type for portfolio entries, queried in the Portfolio page (without using any plugins) and support for pages that show all the details of a single portfolio entry.
- Implement relationships between Blog posts and Portfolio entries. In such a way, the author can write blog posts about specific projects and allowing automatically a bidirectional navigability between portfolio entries and posts (it should be possible to reach related blog entries from individual portfolio entries and vice-versa).
- In-place editor for blog posts as specified earlier in the description.
- Options pages for setting customised contact information, colours and custom header images based on WordPress Settings API
